When Painting your home... ...Be a Good Neighbor

When it is time to think about painting your home, you should give thought to several important considerations. The First step to consider is the color of the homes nearby and the pattern of colors in the Amber Meadows neighborhood. You will find that Home paint colors are similar yet varied. The developer of Amber Meadows, was very cautious to be certain there was symmetry in color and yet balance amount the variety of colors used in their Amber Meadows neighborhood. The Colors used today continue to be of the earth tone family.

In order to assist you in determining your home's new color scheme, your Homes Association has assembled a myriad of approved colors from which you may choose. These colors are designed to be very different and yet will blend with the neighborhood. Colors are broken down into three categories: base color, trim and accent colors for doors and shutters. There are hundreds of colors from which to choose.

Before making a decision on the color on the color palette you wish to use, be sure to contact your Home Association through the website, and you will receive a complete list of Earth Tone approved colors.

Be a Good Neighbor when redecorating and re-painting the exterior of your home.

Note: if your home does not conform to the Amber Meadows Earth Tones it is requested that on the next painting to replace the color to a recommended HOA Earth Tone.
